

Directing skills and time management

Directing skills include:

- Analyzing the script for elements such as theme and meaning.
- Guiding actors to collectively create characters and performances.
- Collaborating with designers to discover visual and spatial expression to serve and enhance the production.

As you develop these, you free your imagination and inspire others to do the same. If you don't manage your time to showcase these skills, they will go to waste.

If you don't prepare – you don't rehearse enough.

Why? Because you have to decide what to do when you should be rehearsing!!
